LEMAN opens new warehouse facilities in Sturtevant, Wisconsin

GRAND OPENING WITH A SIGNIFICANT GUEST

On Thursday 10th November 2016 LEMAN opened the brand new logistics warehouse in Sturtevant. With the completion of the 99,100 ft² / 10,000 m² warehouse expansion, LEMAN is able to capitalize on the increasing domestic and international demand for their services.

More than 100 guests attended the ribbon cutting as the Vice Governor of Wisconsin, Rebecca Kleefisch, congratulated LEMAN and highlighted the advantages of expansion in the local area: "There are real and sincere reasons to invest here in Wisconsin, and that is why I am so proud to be here. Today in Sturtevant, everything is awesome."

THE HEADQUARTER OF FOREIGN COMPANIES

LEMAN expects to add 36 jobs at the location as a result of the expansion, and the expanded logistics warehouse will accommodate additional 23,000 pallets spaces. "In addition to offering a full range of administrative and warehousing services to foreign companies, who want to start or expand their operations in the US market, LEMAN will cater to the local community, offering warehouse space, distribution and value added services," says Mikael Olesen, CEO of LEMAN USA.

LEMAN IN THE US

At the opening, CEO of the LEMAN Group, Thomas Krøyer, talked about the strengthening of LEMAN's services to the US customers: "This day marks another milestone of the 116 years of existence of the LEMAN Group. The expansion of our US headquarter reflects our confidence, hopes and expectations of the US market."

LEMAN is a well-known Danish transport and logistics company who provides state-of-the-art logistics, warehousing, and customized pharma solutions. The company employs over 700 employees at its headquarters in Denmark and in the United States, Sweden, Norway, Finland and the United Kingdom.
